"If there be such a law," said the same lawyer, " I cannot believe that any court letter of it, but would be guided by its spirit. intended to countenance such a monstrous wrong as Mr. Gerry is trying to perpetuate upon the poor Militels."

The Gerry Society has lost much ground in the respect and confidence of the public by its course in connection with the case of little Joe. From all sides come letters thankfor its efforts to vindicate the rights of the ganizations attests the interest with which the proceedings are watched by every parent of small children in New York City.
The Executive Committee of the Citizens' of small children in New York City.

The Executive Committee of the Citizens' Alliance, as a recent meeting at 41 Park Row, adopted a resolution that the charters of all secteties of private individuals or corporations which assume to usurp the functions of the lawfully constituted authorities should be annulied."

Mr. John G. Boyd, in whose office the meeting took: place, said that this resolution was aimed principally at the Gerry Society.

Cigar-Anakers' Union N., by and Barbers' Union No. 1 also indorsed the resolution adopted at the recent meeting of the Central 1 abor Federation denouncing the Gerry Society and calling for its aboution.

Feople imagined that the exposure of the Society's methods in procuring the enactment of laws whenever its officials found themselves in the least handicapped by existing Statutes, or in altering the phraseology of commitment blanks without any legal enactment at its would at least for a while soften he scerotty of the Society and render its gents cautious not to provoke public indignation any further.

Those who believed so were quickly distillusionized by two fresh acts of the Gerry Society's agents.

lusionized by two meas acticy's agents.
-thes of these cases was that of August thier, who was arraigned before Justice tyan in Jefferson Market Court, charged with stealing blankets from a cab. The boy's when restlined against him, saying that he ther testified against him, saying that he as irremediably bad, and the Justice there-was irreneediably bad, and the Justice thereupon signed a commitment.

It was afterwards discovered that the father had been treating the boy brutally and was simply trying to get rid of him.
When Justice Ityan learned this, he tore the commitment into shreds, and denounced Mr. Gerry's agent for having attempted to "railroad" the child to an institution without making a sufficient investigation to even ascertain that the child had a mother living who was willing to take care of him.
The other case was that of the eleven-yeareld daughter of John Feig, of 1915 second

She Reproves Him for Beating His Donkey and Forgives His Abuse.

(by associated pages.)

London, Dec. 10.—Princess May, who was betrothed to the late Duke of Clarence and Avondale, was driving in Hammersmith yesterday when she came upon a coster who was beating his donkey in a most cruel manner.

She ordered her coachman to stop, and directed her footman to deprive the coster of the stick with which he was beating his animal. The Princess spoke to the coster, but was greeted with abuse of the lowest kind.
